

The Training of a Forester by Gifford Pinchot

Read by K. Hand. Total running time: 07:44:10

Written by forester Gifford Pinchot, The Training of a Forester looks at the definition of forest and what the life of a forester entails. The book discusses the United States forest service both on the state and national levels and details the training required to be a forester. As the United States Forest Service Chief, Pinchot was a prominent expert in this topic and, based on his preface to the work, seems to expect the book to either encourage or dissuade young people as they consider a life in forestry.

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Cover picture by J. B. Lippincott & Co. (1914). Copyright expired in U.S. Cover design by David Purdy. This design is in the public domain.